COURSE OVERVIEW

This course specifies the skills and knowledge required to operate a forklift truck safely. A forklift truck is a powered industrial truck equipped with lifting media made up of a mast and an elevating load carriage to which is attached a pair of fork arms or other arms that can be raised 900 mm or more above the ground but does not include a pedestrian-operated truck or a pallet truck.

The course is tailored to suit those individuals who do not have regular access to a forklift truck in a workplace environment and cannot achieve workplace training. The course is scheduled for 3-days, however learners will be assessed on their practical abilities prior to undertaking licensing assessments. *Should the trainer feel a learner requires further practical training after undergoing a skill pre-assessment, the learner may be required to return to the facility at the next available date to complete additional practical training session(s) before undergoing their final practical licensing assessment. Should this be required, a re-attendance fee may apply.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

Workplace Health and Safety Queensland does not allow RPL of licensing assessments. However, if suitable documented evidence is provided of prior training / licensed operations, the applicant may be able to use that evidence to modify formal and workplace training. Such applications are to be made in writing and supporting evidence will be required. Workplace Health & Safety Queensland will be notified of such applications and reviewed in conjunction with the licensing department. Expired licences and licences from overseas jurisdictions are not recognised for full RPL, the assessment process must still occur.

LANGUAGE, LITERACY & NUMERACY (LLN)

Century Training offers various strategies to assist learners who may require support with language, literacy and numeracy. Should you feel you may require assistance in these areas, please discuss with the Training Coordinator prior to enrolment. Further information on support services can be found within our RTO Information Handbook, located www.centurytraining.com.au/resources.

FUNDING

Should you be currently employed or have recently been employed (within last 4 years) within the building and construction industry in Queensland, you may be eligible for a training subsidy through a funding initiative of Construction Skills Queensland (CSQ). Eligibility criteria applies. Visit www.centurytraining.com.au/subsidies for further information.

LICENCING ASSESSMENTS

A candidate must be 18 years or over to undergo licensing assessment. Should a candidate receive an unsatisfactory result during assessment, they will be provided the opportunity to re-sit at a suitable time. Re-assessment fees apply.

COURSE OUTCOME

Upon successful completion, a nationally recognised Statement of Attainment and Workplace Health & Safety Queensland Assessment Summary (to apply for a high-risk LF licence) will be issued.

OBTAINING A LICENCE

Learners are required to submit an online application to Workplace Health & Safety Queensland who will issue a high-risk work licence. This application must be lodged within 60 days after the date of the candidate's successful practical assessment. Licensing fees apply and are to be paid direct to Workplace Health & Safety Queensland. <https://www.worksafe.qld.gov.au/licensing-and-registrations/work-health-and-safety-licences/licence-fees>.
